Protect the Land that Protects the Lagoon

Annual Report | July 1, 2020 - June 30, 2021

Together we can Protect the Land that Protects the Lagoon.

“ The Indian River Land Trust is committed to saving our extraordinary lagoon – the life blood of our community. Without a healthy Lagoon, we will face enormous economic challenges. We cannot sit on our hands and allow this to happen.

- NED DAYTON, CAMPAIGN CO-CHAIR

Dear Friends,

Writing this letter each year is an opportunity to reflect on our progress, what we've done right as well as what we can do better. It's an exercise in gratitude for the deep trust you've placed in the Indian River Land Trust to work toward our shared vision for a healthy lagoon.

Unfortunately, our lagoon is not healthy. The Indian River Lagoon is technically and profoundly impaired.

For over thirty years, the Land Trust has worked tirelessly to Preserve, Protect and Provide nature to all. With your help we have:

- Protected over 1,200 acres and 12 miles of lagoon shoreline;
- Restored important tidal creeks as well as salt marshes, wildlife habitat and living shorelines;
- Researched seagrasses, fisheries and bird populations;
- Advocated for smart policies and wide public support;
- Hosted students from across the county in educational outings; and
- Invited the whole community to enjoy nature at our public preserves.

It is not enough.

This is the deciding decade, or in the words of Marjory Stoneman Douglas "You cannot save what you do not have."

In order to accelerate our efforts to keep pace with the magnifying challenges, we are publicly launching a campaign to Protect the Land that Protects the Lagoon. During the early phase of this effort, we saw that the community shares our concern for the natural paradise we call home and we are grateful to the 143 leadership donors listed in these pages who have already committed nearly $12 million. In the year to come, we will open our preserves to show you how the Land Trust plans to meet the moment.

Please join us,

A Community Effort

The staff and board offer our sincere thanks for the following campaign commitments, made since the inception of the campaign up until the end of our last fiscal year on June 30, 2021. In total, we have raised nearly $12 million.

These extraordinary contributions have already been put to good use:

- Protecting the 66-acre Barber Bridge property
- Designing plans for a living classroom at Coastal Oaks Preserve
- Securing important parcels to connect wildlife corridors
- Continuing critical research on snook and tarpon habitat

Campaign funds will go on to support:

- Opening a public trail on the barrier island
- Building our land stewardship endowment
- Acquiring strategic property
- Breaking ground on the living classroom at Coastal Oaks Preserve

The applied research and strategic land stewardship efforts of the Indian River Lagoon have long been supported by our beloved Ladies of the Lagoon. That program was paused during the pandemic as we limited the size of our gatherings to ensure everyone's safety. We look forward to reconvening as soon as it is safe and thank you all for your generous support.

Land Trust Restoration and Research

// The Indian River Land Trust is committed to the health of the Lagoon.

Studies that look at seagrasses, birds, fish, diamondback terrapins, and water quality give us more information about the lands we're protecting and how they can help to protect the lagoon.

- DAVE FUSS, DIRECTOR OF LAND STEWARDSHIP

Season 13, Episode 1304

- Habitats: The Key to Florida's Fisheries.

// One of the biggest concerns with habitat loss in Florida is the effect that it has on fisheries.

The more connected the mangrove forests are to the estuary, the more the habitat improves. Approximately 80 – 85% of the mangroves that still exist in the Indian River Lagoon are inaccessible to fish because they're impounded. Having a Land Trust that understands the importance of connecting these habitats is huge.

- DR. AARON ADAMS, DIRECTOR OF SCIENCE AND CONSERVATION, BONEFISH AND TARPON TRUST
